

An advocate will try and help you by making sure your wishes and rights are respected when there are meetings.

Your nearest relative can ask an advocate to meet you but you can decide if you want to meet them or not.

The help is free.

Information for patients about advocacy

Produced with the help of Atlas patients

August 2012

This leaflet tells you about advocacy and how an advocate can support you while you are staying at Atlas House.

Advocacy is a service that you can have when you are at Atlas House. You can ask to meet an advocate.

There are different types of advocates. If you would like to see an advocate please ask a member of staff.

An advocate is not involved in your care or treatment but will speak for you.

An advocate will help you to understand what people are saying about your care and treatment.

An advocate can give you information about your treatment.

You can talk to an advocate if you are not happy with your medication. They will talk to the doctors about your worries.

An advocate can support you to make sure your views are heard.

An advocate can explain your rights to you if you have to stay at Atlas House. Please ask a member of staff if you would like to have a leaflet about your rights.
